Lincoln Place may not look like a milestone but it is. I hope you have been able to get out to see it. It is the most up-to-date, practical, usable education facility in the nation.

Lincoln Place gives our company the resources to raise quality education to a level that will meet the needs of the nation. We can conduct five Management or Executive Colleges at one time plus several workshops.

We have the restaurants, hotels, and services orchestrated to support all of that. We have the trained people, they have the dedication, and together we have skills.

Our investment in furniture, equipment, and such is over $300,000 to date for Lincoln Place. It is over 2.5 million dollars for the company as a whole. That is a lot of money. It represents a great deal of stepping forward in faith.

But our goal of causing Renaissance of Quality in America is a sound one, and our investment in people, money, and facilities is worth it.

We are going to see a different PCA in the future, probably beginning later this year. We will become recognized more and more as a company that is run on the principles it teaches.

You may have noticed that very few operations practice what they teach. Hairdressers have sloppy hair, business schools are not very business like, banks don't manage money well, and so forth. But we manage ourselves according to the prevention practices. People will come to see us, to learn if we really are happy, pleasant, hard working people.
